Broken Pledges On Span Trade To Be Charged

Settlement of Route, Start of Work Sought

Emulating San Francisco, which sent its chief political figures such as former Mayor James Rolph Jr., now California's governor, whenever it wanted something special from the peninsula board, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors prepared today to "storm" San Francisco's supervisorial chambers next Monday to demand that the metropolis "keep its promises on the Ocean Shore highway."

San Mateo county's supervisors will not mince words when they lay their demands before San Francisco, it was agreed here when the board decided to take up the suggested visit.

The idea came from George Dunn, Half Moon Bay publisher, and won the approval at once of Chairman Manuel Francis, who is a director of the tri-county highway district.

The express "broken promise" is that San Francisco has failed to put up some $220,000 as its share of the moneys which were to be raised during the past three years. The metropolis is charged with crediting but $35,000 to the district, which Dunn declares to be "a mere drop in the bucket."

San Mateo county's sum of $72,000 is ready, although the peninsula county has credited to the district only the first installment of $22,350. Santa Cruz county is also reported to have its share ready. The obligations of the counties are on a 55-30-15 per cent basis.

What San Mateo county will tell Mayor Angelo Rossi and the other political dignitaries in San Francisco is that some three or four years ago the peninsula board was about to grant a franchise for a bay bridge at Candlestick Point.

This shocked San Francisco, as it wanted to build a bridge across the bay to Oakland, and the army engineers were emphatic in their declarations that if the Candlestick Point bridge were built, the other would be "out."

The result was a "trade," by which San Francisco agreed to go the limit with San Mateo county in building the Ocean Shore highway, a project skirting the coastline from San Francisco to Santa Cruz, and the San Mateo county board agreed to deny the bridge permit.

This was done and San Francisco has since gotten its bay bridge permit and San Mateo county still waits for its highway. Started five years ago, not a shovel of dirt has been moved except by nature.

With the matter of finances straightened out, San Mateo county next will ask San Francisco to do something about getting the highway started.

It will ask the San Francisco board to instruct Supervisor Andrew Gallagher, who is chairman of the district board, and Clyde Healy, San Francisco representative on the engineering board, to proceed at once.

Following the report by Surveyor James S. James, San Mateo county's engineering representative, that the Pedro Point and Devil's Slide were slipping gradually into the sea, the peninsula board is not too anxious to build along that route.

So it wants Healy and George Bowman, Santa Cruz engineer, to find another alignment, which James said is possible.

James told the San Mateo county board "that it would be the height of folly to buy the Pedro Point right of way."

The surveyor said he did not believe "there is enough money in San Mateo county to maintain the road if it ever should be built there."

James, who made his report after seven days surveying, laid the facts before Healy, who will probably go over the site with him before next Monday.

Formation of Fire District Put Over

Formation of a fire district at Brisbane, as requested by about 60 residents of the district and opposed by 85 others, was laid over for two weeks by the board of supervisors at the suggestion of Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, who today is awaiting "developments."

District Attorney Edmund Scott informed the board that if 50 valid residents of the district want the fire district formed it will be up to the supervisors to do so. This will mean appointing three fire commissioners, who will fix the boundaries.

TRADE-IN-REDWOOD CITY-MEET SCHEDULED FOR MONDAY, MAY 8

A mass meeting of every Redwood City merchant, employe and all employes of the postoffice, public utilities, the city of Redwood City, manufacturing plants, industrial concerns, school teachers and professional men, will be held at the firehouse auditorium on Monday evening, May 8.

Frank T. Caldwell, field representative of the National Retail Credit Association, will be the speaker. He will outline the results that have been and may be obtained through coordination of all agencies in the community in keeping local payrolls spent in the home city.

Howard I. Wood, secretary of the chamber of commerce, will outline the "Trade in Redwood City" campaign that will be undertaken on a new and different basis and will supply all present with literature and equipment on the plan.

Other Redwood City men will be present to lend aid to the plans which call for the largest and most extensive campaign ever sponsored here.

W. D. Ryan, president of the retailers' division of the chamber of commerce, will act as chairman of the meeting and introduce the speakers.

An attendance of approximately 500 business people is expected.

New Move to Stimulate R. C. Trading Begun

Announcement of a completely new and different plan to make it more interesting for Redwood City people to trade in Redwood City stores was announced today by the retailer's division of the chamber of commerce.

The plan, which was formulated by members of the retailers, calls for letter from all merchants, schools, manufacturers, corporations, public utilities, and the city government, to their employes asking their cooperation in spending local payrolls in Redwood City.

A pledge will be enclosed with each letter, to be signed by each employee and returned to the employer.

Reasons for the drive and actual figures to show the basis of the idea and how it results in personal gain for the individual will be outlined.

To start the campaign and in order to prove to the people of the community that Redwood City stores can supply their needs at savings, a city-wide sale will be held. The date of this will be announced later. It is expected that this event will outdo anything of this nature ever before attempted.

Port District Vote Favored In South S. F.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Apr. 29.—Following decision of the San Mateo County Harbor Committee to ask the supervisors to submit the proposal of the county-wide harbor district to the people, the chamber of commerce here went on record last night as in favor of the election.

Andrew Hynding reported on the action of the harbor group and urged the chamber of commerce to support the project, which was subsequently voted.

The chamber also went on record as opposed to the price of $112,000 asked for the proposed Oceanshore highway right of way.

Garbage Case In San Jose 15th of June

Date of the court trial in San Jose testing the legality of the Bayshore Sanitary District ordinance which seeks to forbid dumping of San Francisco garbage on Southern Pacific property in Northern San Mateo county was set today for June 15.

Deputy District Attorney Harold Anderson of District Attorney Edmund Scott's office sought an earlier date, but at least a four weeks' delay was asked by the attorneys for the other side.

Discount Now Being Allowed On Water Bills

Pay your water bill before the 15th of the month and get a discount of 10 per cent.

This was the advice of City Manager E. A. Rolison today to water consumers of Redwood City, in calling attention to the new low rates recently made effective as of April 1.

The discount of 10 per cent for bills paid before the 15th is in addition to the decrease in rates. The minimum rate is now only $1 per month. Rates per 100 cubic feet are as follows: For first 400 at 25 cents; 400 to 6,000 at 22 cents; 6,000 to 30,000 at 18; above 30,000 at 15 cents.

No discount will be allowed on bills paid after the 15th.

Ordinance to Control Beer Is Submitted

An ordinance to regulate the sale of beer and other beverages of 3.2 per cent alcoholic content in Redwood City was introduced by Councilman McCarthy Monday night, after it had been presented by City Attorney Albert Mansfield.

The ordinance follows, in a general way, the state law and the newly adopted San Mateo ordinance. It requires a fee of $50 per year for "on sale" licenses and $10 for "off sale" licenses. No "on sale" permits will be granted unless the place of sale is equipped to serve meals.

Holders of "on sale" licenses do not require the other license.

Applications for licenses cost $2.

Armed Holdup Man Kidnaps 'Bud' Lambert

Oil Station Manager Victim of Bandit Wednesday

Victimized for the third time within 10 days, Norbert Lambert, manager of a service station at El Camino Real and Rogers street, was robbed of $29 in cash at the point of a gun Wednesday about 8 o'clock by a lone bandit who made his escape on foot.

Tuesday night 50 gallons of gasoline were stolen from the storage tanks of Lambert's station, and a week before 20 gallons were taken.

Just at darkness shortly before 8 o'clock last night a man described as being between 45 and 50 years of age approached the station and confronted Lambert with a .45 caliber pistol when the latter arose from working on his books.

"Open the till, quick," the intruder shouted.

Lambert hesitated and hurried to comply when the stranger grew angry. The hold-up man scooped $7 in coins from the cash register, shoved it in his pocket and turned to the operator with a demand for the rest of the money.

After attempting another stall, Lambert yielded with the gun stuck in his ribs and removed $22 in bills from his own pocketbook.

The bandit then ordered Lambert to walk quickly along Rogers street across the railroad tracks and down Arguello street toward Broadway.

A block south on Arguello, the gunman snarled orders at Lambert to return to the station, adding the threat, "If you try anything funny I'll plug you."

The manager immediately telephoned the police station and Officers J. A. Snider, Harold Fitzgerald and Chief of Police C. L. Collins responded.

Lambert reported he last saw the robber heading toward Broadway on Arguello. A cruise of the complete district by the officers failed to uncover any sign of the man.

Police were told that earlier in the afternoon a man resembling the description of the bandit walked through the station grounds, and that a telephone call inquiring the closing time was received at the station while Lambert was off duty for a half-hour at dinner time.

The gunman wore a black suit and black hat and had a two-day growth of beard.

Louisiana State University track aces, Southern conference champions of 1932, are preparing for another title chase. They will meet the Rice Owls at Houston, Tex., in a non-conference meet.

PETITION ON COUNTY PORT DISTRICT READY FOR PRESENTATION TO BOARD

A petition for the formation of a county-wide harbor district, bearing signatures of registered voters from all parts of San Mateo county, was ready today to be presented to the board of supervisors.

Supporters of the district plan, which would make possible the creation of a county deep water port on Redwood creek, are taking steps to have the supervisors act so that the proposition may go on the ballots of county voters in the state election, tentatively fixed for June 27.

The law requires the signatures of 50 qualified persons on such a petition. Approximately 75 names were obtained by three teams. County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman and City Manager E. A. Rolison circulated the petition in the north end of the county and on the coastside; Carl Stoner and Howard I. Wood operated in Burlingame, San Mateo, San Carlos and Belmont; and Daniel Stafford and City Engineer C. L. Dimmitt in Redwood City, Woodside, Menlo Park, Atherton and North Palo Alto.

The teams were heartened by the response they met in all sections of the county. Signatures of the following were affixed to the petition:

R. Guy Smith, Moss Beach; Andrew Hynding, J. W. Coleberd, H. W. Call, Ira H. Potter, G. W. Holston, South San Francisco; L. T. Phelan and A. Vireno, Daly City; H. Stampanoni, Peter Ramer and Louis Mava, Colma; M. Jensen, Lawndale; R. A. Rapsey, George G. Hughes, Robert Prouty, William Maurer and Dr. F. H. Smith, San Bruno; Charles L. Morgan, Alvin Hatch, George Dunn, Felix LaCrosse and Frank Marsh, Half Moon Bay; Dave L. Walter, Harry Morey Jr., and Mark A. McCann, Atherton; Walter Kellogg, Arthur Payne, Amerigo Rossi, William Hohn, Charles Woodmansee, W. E Ayer, A. G. Keney, Dr. C. E. Penez, W. W. Hilton, J. Lee Pipkin, Henry Witte, John Gill, C. G. Lambert, Carl Beeger, Z. T. Thorning, Carl Stoner, E. B. Hinman, Daniel Stafford, Charles Dimmitt, E. A. Rolison, M. A. Harris, E. T. Harrison, Redwood City; C. A. Buck, J. C. Forsythe, Henry C. Maier, Walter M. High, James Murphy, Burlingame; John D. Bronfield, George Ferris, Vernard Davis, H. W. Amphlett, San Mateo; D. A. Raybould, Hillsborough; George C. Morgan, J. H. Martin, John Cowgill, San Carlos; D. St. George, C. J. Messner, Belmont; J. V. Neuman, Paul Fay, Woodside; W. H. Weeden, George Walsh, Menlo Park; Peter Faber, John Huss, North Palo Alto.

As required by law, three of the petitioners, C. A. Buck of Burlingame, Daniel Stafford and Carl Stoner of Redwood City, will publish the notice that the petition will be presented to the supervisors for hearing on Thursday, May 25, at 10 o'clock, when all persons interested may appear.

The petition was filed today with the county clerk, and 20 days must elapse between the time of filing and the hearing.

The district would be formed under an act of the legislature, and would be known as the San Mateo County Harbor District. No expense would be involved in creating the district, which is necessary in order to set up the machinery for development of an adequate harbor and facilities for maritime commerce.

City Acts to Acquire Lake Water System

As soon as all the necessary papers are properly signed, Redwood City will take over and operate the Emerald Lake Water Company, and serve all the territory now being served by that concern.

A resolution to this effect was adopted by the council Monday night, on motion of Councilman Paul McCarthy, and seconded by Charles Hildebrant.

Negotiations have been under way for some time, and the state railroad commission has let it be known that it favors the transfer.

It is planned to expend $1,400 in making certain needed improvements in the Emerald Lake system, which will be charged against the city's water department, and eventually repaid by the earnings of the former system. Records of all revenues and disbursements of the Emerald Lake system are to be kept separate from those of the local system.

Emerald Lake residents will be assured of an adequate supply of water and of city service under the new management. It is believed that this fact will mean much to the ultimate development of the territory.

The Tartars, several centuries ago, often ate books to acquire the knowledge in them.

TRAIL BLAZER

Charles A. Horrworth, field secretary of the All-Year Club of Southern California, who spoke before the Kiwanis Club Wednesday on plans for uniting the Mission Trails Association program with a $350,000 advertising campaign to increase tourist traffic.

Rebuilding of 19-Year-Old Fence Urged

Declaring a fence built 19 years ago was not in conformity with plans, W. R. Bartley, real estate man, today asked the San Mateo county supervisors to rebuild it.

No one on the present board was a member except Chairman Manuel Francis, who recalled the promises that were made by the county when a right of way for road purposes was wanted through the Tunitas ranch back on October 9, 1914.

Because the deed has never been taken out of escrow, Bartley says that the landowners have paid $150 in taxes on the eight acres during the intervening years. The question was placed up to District Attorney Edmund Scott for his advice.

Development of Artistic Skill Interestingly Shown In Current School Exhibit

By STAFF WRITER

Variety and originality are features of the large exhibit of art work by talented pupils of the Redwood City public schools which opened Wednesday at the Central school on Broadway. The display is open to the public each afternoon and evening until May 12.

For the critic there are many excellent examples of free hand drawing and design, outstanding of which are the works of pupils in elective opportunity classes—those whose creditable skill and interest in art leads them to devote their extra time to it with naturally exceptional results.

For the parents and friends of the students themselves, however, the finished work of the more expert artists is not as important as the progress shown in the year-by-year development of their own children and those of neighbors. For some, of course, the fourth-grade exhibits or the kindergarten projects, as the case may be, hold more fascination.

In arranging the comprehensive display, the art instructors have recognized this range of interest.

Comparative Results

Particularly worthy of note to the layman who wishes to judge the comparative achievements of the grades is a chart showing age development in drawing. Most striking to the average person is the series of house sketches from that of the four-year-old to that of the pupil of 13 or 14. It is interesting to note that the beginners' attempts show both ends of a building, and that this tendency continues until the age of 10. At this point a sense of perspective develops gradually until the drawings of the upper grades are nearly architectural in quality.

Without revealing preferences, it is difficult to avoid giving first mention to the circus projects and the evolution of transportation charts of the lower grades.

Those who have a weakness for ships are glad that the students recently visited the Frigate Constitution in San Francisco and came back to sketch their impressions vividly and with excellent lines. Some used their imaginations effectively in portraying "Old Ironsides" on the high seas under full canvas. These are in color and pencil sketches.

Striking Examples

There are some fine examples of still life and also some unusual landscapes. The free hand silhouettes are particularly striking.

Animal lovers will be pleased with a large group of drawings of dogs by Gabriel Pugas and Gordon Jackson.

Excellent advanced work is shown in the crayonette tapestries of Marjorie Cook, Jernice Granger, Aurelia Blood and Marjory Runyon.

There are many other outstanding examples in the large collection—something to interest every member of the community.

The exhibit, representing the work of pupils in all schools in Redwood City elementary school district, was arranged by Miss Gene Nagel, art supervisor, and all other teachers in the schools.

H. Zimmerman, R. C. Pioneer, Passes Away

Following a very brief illness, Hary Zimmerman, a resident of this community for the past 25 years, passed away early Saturday evening at his home, 362 Elwood street. He was a native of Placerville, El Dorado County and was 57 years of age. He was a member of Redwood City Aerie No. 418 Fraternal Order of Eagles; California Council No. 530, National Union; and the Redwood City Local of the Carpenters Union.

Besides his widow Mr. Zimmerman is survived by a son, Warren I. Zimmerman; two sisters, Mrs. Edna Lievano and Mrs. Alma Labachotte; and by two brothers, T. R. and Fred T. Zimmerman. He was the son of the late Martin and Angeline Zimerman; and a brother of the late Mrs. Elizabeth M. Smith and the late Frank and Ben C. Zimmerman.

Firemen Thanked By City for Work In Main St. Fire

At the suggestion of Fire Chief Mark Ryan, the city council Monday directed City Manager E. A. Rolison to write letters to the San Carlos and Menlo Park fire departments, thanking them for assistance rendered during the recent fire on Main street.

A letter of appreciation and commendation was also authorized by the council, to be sent to the Redwood City firemen for their work in keeping the fire from spreading.

Chief Ryan said that peninsula fire departments have under consideration a plan for exchanging services during emergencies, and that additional details will be forthcoming at a meeting to be held in Redwood City.

Two Minor Relief Projects Approved

Two minor relief projects had the approval today of the San Mateo county supervisors, together to cost $595 and to provide 195 days of employment.

Vines will be removed from the old county jail, sheds in the rear of the place will be razed, and weeds will be cut, in getting the building ready for use as the new juvenile detention home. This will cost $45.

The other project is for trail work along the Tunitas Glen road, including widening of right of way by trimming banks and straightening the alignment. This work will cost $540.

Dumbarton Bridge Sign Permit Given

Permission was granted to the Dumbarton Bridge Company to erect a direction sign at East Brewster avenue and El Camino Real, when the request was made to the city council Monday night by Charles R. Thornburn. Sanction came on motion of Councilman Charles Lambert, seconded by Charles Hildebrant.

The council refused permission to Foster and Kleiser to erect another billboard on El Camino Real, on the ground that there "must be a halt called sometime."

Redwood City Will Be Host To Veterans

2,000 Ex-Servicemen Expected Saturday For Convention

Redwood City will be host to approximately 2,000 visitors from cities of the bay region Saturday evening on the occasion of the annual sixth district convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Festivities, arranged by Corp. James Lindsay Wilson Post, No. 2310, of Redwood City, will start at 7:30 p. m. with a mammoth parade in which 70 units of veterans' organizations, bands, drum corps and auxiliaries will participate.

The meeting will take place in the Veterans' Building at Warren and Standish streets, and activities incidental to the big affair will be held in the large lot adjoining the building.

After the meeting at 8:30, there will be eight acts of vaudeville, followed by dancing in the hall and in the street, and a country fair and concessions will be conducted.

Mayor W. J. Dusel will be honorary grand marshall of the parade, with Dr. John N. Blood as marshall and Dr. R. C. Frazier as assistant.

In general charge are Al Bechet, past commander of the local post, and Donald Sevier, commander.

CITY SAVES $25 ON ITS AUDIT BILL

Public Accountant's Work Less Than Expected

EXPLAINS WHY

'Excellent Records' Kept; Officials Commended

The city saved $25 on its last auditing bill because of the efficiency of the city treasurer and city collector.

This was revealed at the council meeting Monday in a letter from C. E. Piatt, certified public accountant, whose bill for auditing the city's books for the three month period ending March 31, 1933, was $100 instead of the $125 originally agreed upon.

Piatt said it took less time to do the auditing than he had figured, due to "the excellent records kept by Treasurer Myers and City Collector Miramontes, and to the cooperation I have received from these two officials and all other officials and employes of the city hall."

The auditor's report for the nine months' period ending March 31, 1933, showed all the finances of the city in regular order and adequately safeguarded.

However, Piatt did make the following suggestion:

"The First National Bank of San Mateo County has on deposit with the treasurer as security for city funds, certain improvement bonds issued under the 1915 act of Redwood City aggregating over $33,000 face value.

"While it is true, I believe, that special district improvement bonds are legally acceptable from the depositaries of city funds, it is also true that during the past several years the market value of many of these bonds has dropped far below their face value.

"My suggestion is that, if possible, the Redwood City M-2 and M-12 bonds deposited with the treasurer by the First National Bank be substituted by other and better securities. If not possible, I suggest that the deposit of city cash in the First National Bank be kept down to $35,000 and with no reduction of the securities now on deposit from that bank."

On motion of Councilman Paul McCarthy, seconded by Charles Hildebrant, the council asked the city treasurer to communicate with the bank and follow the suggestions of Piatt.

Parkman Backed Bill

The citizens of San Mateo county favor horse racing. The race track is located here and the people enjoy the sport and backed the Woolwine-Maloney bill legalizing racing in the state that was vetoed by Governor Rolph.

Senator Harry Parkman is highly commended for his splendid support given the bill in the senate. He carried out the wishes of his constituents who want racing to continue in the state. The senator has made a decided hit with the voter and may expect a strong backing in his political aspirations.

A rumor has it that he may try for congress next year on the Republican ticket. Should he be a candidate he is certain of a good vote on the peninsula.

Mayor W. H. Weeden, his daughter Isabelle Lindquist, and granddaughter, Emma Roberta Lindquist, spent Sunday in Jamestown with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cullers whose home is a California landmark. The house has not been altered since being built in the late fourties and some of the dishes and furniture date back about 200 years. The piano came around the Horn in '47 and cost $3,000. It is still in good condition and Mrs. Lindquist sang a group of old songs and played the piano which hadn't been used for many years.

Gasoline is Stolen From Oil Station

Norbert Lambert, manager of a service station at El Camino Real and Rogers street, reported to Chief of Police C. L. Collins Tuesday the theft of approximately 50 gallons of gasoline from the station.

Loss of the gasoline was linked with the disappearance of 20 gallons a week ago. In both instances the gas was syphoned from the storage tanks. The station building was not entered.

Marks on the gravel driveway indicated a heavy truck with hard-rubber tires was driven into the place, and that the departure was made by way of the Old County road toward San Carlos. Hay, apparently dropped from the truck, was scattered on the ground.

Are Chickens a Nuisance? Yes, When They Sing Bass, Crow Tenor, Man Complains

The old gag about why does a chicken cross the road took on a new version Monday, when G. H. Hirsch, 435 Clinton street, asked the city council: "When does a chicken cease to be a chicken and become a nuisance?"

The council turned to City Attorney Albert Mansfield for legal assistance in deciding a proper answer. The city attorney said there was no ordinance prohibiting chickens.

"There should be," said Hirsch, whose work often keeps him up late at night, and whose rest, he declared, is broken by the raucous voices of crowing roosters and cackling hens.

"Just about the time I fall asleep," protested Hirsch, "a rooster with a bass voice crows, almost in my ears. Then he is answered by a tenor—a bantam, I suppose—and so far into the night."

Besides, said the complainant, poultry means flies. He said he thought the raising of chickens and pigeons, especially in the closely built up areas, should be prohibited.

Councilman Paul McCarthy stated that other citizens had complained along the same lines, from time to time. "The problem as I see it," he said, "is this: There are approximately 9,000 people in the city. If the council should pass an ordinance prohibiting the keeping of chickens, what percentage of our population would feel that the law would be unnecessary and objectionable?"

In other words, said the councilman, the council would be glad to adopt a restrictive ordinance if there seemed to be a popular demand for it.

It was suggested that a petition might indicate the trend of public opinion.

Marriage of Young Couple Is Annulled

Judge Swart Grants Decree Following Quiet Hearing

Granted a hearing in advance of the regular calendar, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Goff of Palo Alto Monday won an annulment of the marriage of her daughter, Mary Leslie, to Malcolm Dean Almack, former Palo Alto high school student who eloped to Nevada last April.

Mrs. Goff, Miss Goff, who is 17, and Attorney William Sea Jr., of San Francisco, were the only witnesses.

Almack19, or his parents, Prof. and Mrs. John C. Almack of Stanford, did not testify.

The mother said she had not given her consent to the marriage, and the girl admitted this was true. Neither she nor Almack had secured consent to the marriage, Miss Goff said.

Sea testified that the laws of Nevada and those of California were similar in respect to "age of consent," and Judge Swart then entered the annulment decree.

Later, when the question was raised as to the age of consent being allegedly 16 in Nevada, Judge Swart said he would look into the law and that he would not defy the statutes of Nevada.

This was taken to mean that the court might set aside the annulment, but Judge Swart would not say one way or the other what he would do.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Winklebleck and son have taken a house at 1327 James avenue.

Kin of Slain M.P. Society Woman Dies

Mrs. Dorcas Spencer Was Contestant In Will Case

Mrs. Dorcas J. Spencer, 94, mother of Franklin Spencer, late Menlo Park resident and head of the Spencer Elevator Company, and the mother-in-law of Mrs. Edith Orr Spencer, slain Menlo Park society wife, died Tuesday in Berkeley.

Mrs. Spencer was contesting for a share of her son's estate after executors of Mrs. Edith Spencer's estate had denied her part of her son's fortune of $200,000, just prior to her death.

Mrs. Spencer came from Rhode Island to Grass Valley with her husband, the late William K. Spencer, while a bride of 17. She helped organize the Women's Christian Temperance Union in California, and wrote two books, one on temperance work and one on Indian reservation life. She lobbied temperance and Indian education bills through the legislature.

Mrs. Spencer is survived by two children, Gardiner A. B. Spencer and Mrs. Annie B. Clennan. Another son, Frank Spencer, died just two months before his wife and John Viano, gardener, were found shot to death at Menlo Park.

Gardener Suicide After Arrest in Bad Check Case

SAN MATEO, May 2.—Albert E. Smith, 39, gardener employed on a number of large peninsula estates, was found dead today on the sidewalk at Fourth and Dartmouth road, with a gunshot wound in the abdomen.

Police said he had pressed the barrel of the gun against his stomach and pushed the trigger with a forked stick. The body was found by George Ward, a friend, from whose place he had borrowed the gun.

In Smith's hat police found a note which read:

"Dear Mary: I am sorry, but this seems the only way. I feel I am going insane. God bless you."

Mary is Smith's wife. Smith was recently taken into custody in San Francisco for writing a $98 check, alleged to be worthless, but had signed a note to make good the amount, police said.

Vincent W. Hallinan, San Francisco attorney who was brought into the spotlight during the Egan trial, shot himself through the left index finger Sunday while trying to force a cartridge into his .22-caliber rifle.

Halinan was spending the day at his Emerald Lake cottage when the mishap occured.

He was given emergency treatment by Dr. Harry Mason at the hospital here, and then went to Mills Memorial Hospital. Later he left for his home in San Francisco.

As Hallinan told the story to deputy sheriffs who investigated, he was trying to force a cartridge into the rifle. He used a hammer to drive it in, and the shell exploded.

Lions Clubs Take up Co. Planning Idea

Adoption of county planning as a major activity of the Peninsula Council of Lions Clubs was voted at a meeting of this organization held at Half Moon Bay, Saturday evening. More than 100 members of Lions Clubs from Monterey to Burlingame were present at the affair.

Hugh Pomeroy, advisor to the county planning commissions of San Mateo and Santa Clara counties, was the speaker of the evening. Mr. Pomeroy outlined the basis of city and county planning, and showed how the fundamentals of the idea were begun in early history but were allowed to drop as the population grew faster than imagination could picture.

The members of the peninsula council pledged their aid to Mr. Pomeroy in bringing about better planning in their respective counties.

The meeting was opened by a band concert and parade under the auspices of the Half Moon Bay Lions Club of which N. H. Rizzo Jr. iis president.

William B. Curran, president of the council, presided at the meeting.

Comedy Will Be Presented Friday Night

Rehearsals and stage settings were completed today for the three-act comedy, "Expressin' Willie," which will be presented this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the McKinley school auditorium on Duane street under the joint auspices af the El Camino Players and the Redwood City Yomecan Club.

The Rachael Crothers play is the initial production of the newly organized community players' group. The service club is assisting in introducing the dramatic organization to the community.

Members of the cast are well known here for their work in Sequoia high school plays of past years. Leading roles are taken by Miss Valerie Barrett and Thomas B. Ambrose.

Californians have added chess to their "water sports." A large size board is anchored and the players recline on lifebelts.

Solicitors for Blind Allowed R. C. Concession

Moved by a letter from the San Francisco Association for the Blind, the city council Monday voted to waive restrictions against outside solicitors of salvage, etc., in the case of the makers of Blindcraft articles.

The letter also called attention to the fact that impostors are peddling articles alleged to be Blindcraft made. Blindcraft articles, it was stated, are never sold from door to door or to peddlers, but only to established legitimate dealers and in San Francisco.

Councilman Paul McCarthy made the motion lifting the ban against the blind, seconded by Robert Jones.

McCarthy said there ought to be some local organization that would attend to the collection of old clothes and other materials, if the council is going to continue its restrictions against the Salvation Army, Volunteers of America, and other organizations. Otherwise, their material accumulates, without benefiting anybody.

Jellinek Will Contest Seen In R. C. Court

Mrs. Ida Auton, wife of a Menlo Park creamery proprietor, prepared today to contest the will of her mother, Mrs. Mae Jellinek of Burlingame, who died April 28 leaving her nothing of a more than $10,000 estate. Mrs. Auton was an adopted daughter.

Petition to have the will probated was filed yesterday at Redwood City by Mrs. Jellinek's niece, Zay Scheiner, 1848 Green street, San Francisco. The will leaves $1000 to a friend, Bertha Fox, Burlingame, and the residue to the niece and makes no provision for Mrs. Auton.

Mrs. Jellinek, widow of Charles Jellinek, for many years secretary of the California Association of Scottish Rite Masons, died last Friday, and during recent months, according to John F. Davis, who is attorney for Mrs. Auton, she had been on good terms with her adopted daughter. The will was dated last September. Undue influence will be alleged, said Davis. The suit will be opposed by Attorney Theodore Breslauer.

Jellinek died in November, 1930, and, like his widow, omitted provision in his will for Mrs. Auton, whom the couple had adopted when she was a child.

WIFE REFUSED TO KISS— HUSBAND STABBED HER

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (UP)—"Kiss me," suddenly demanded T. F. Campbell, 43, of his wife as they rode downtown on a street car.

She refused the public caress, so Campbell drew a pocket knife and stabbed her several times.

At the hospital physicians said her injuries were not serious. Police took Campbell into custody, and said records showed he had been a mental patient.

Saving to Taxpayers Under Bill Figured

San Mateo county taxpayers would be saved $1.25 per $100 levied for elementary and high school purposes if the Fiegenbaum retail sales tax bill for relief of the common property is adopted, reports from Sacramento said today.

A state levy of 2 per cent on retail sales will yield approximately $75,000,000 during the next biennium, or enough to take the place of the entire tax now levied by the counties for school support, it is said.

The joint legislative tax committee is urging adoption of the proposal.

Ethel C. Hall is Given Divorce Here

R. C.-San Carlos Pound Service Plan Proposed

Redwood City councilmen, at a meeting Monday night in the fire house auditorium, expressed themselves as desirous of offering the use of the city pound and poundmaster to San Carlos, provided some system could be worked out which would be mutually satisfactory to both communities.

Since 1930, San Carlos has had a more or less irregular arrangement whereby Redwood City's poundmaster made periodical calls in San Carlos.

On motion of Councilman Paul McCarthy, seconded by Charles Lambert, the council agreed to furnish the poundmaster to San Carlos two and a half days a month, for $10 per month, and extra trips at $2 each. This offer holds good for an experimental period of three months.

Mayor William J. Dusel appointed Councilman Lambert a committee of one to take up the matter with Mayor Asa Hull of San Carlos and Mrs. Nelle Miramontes, city collector of Redwood City.

City Manager E. A. Rolison said the poundman was being used to collect delinquent business licenses, in addition to his regular duties. The council agreed that, while it might not be, in a strict sense, "good business" to provide pound service for San Carlos, it would be a "neighborly act" to do so.
